Posted by Lisa - 2008/04/19 06:09

Sorry yet another beginners question....

how do i setup an IMAP email account if the only options I have from my hosting control panel are to setup POP3 accounts.

Installation was fine - just cant work out how to get started having been through this forum and the roundcube wiki.

Any help appreciated.

That could mean that your hosting/mail provider does not support IMAP account, i suggest you contact them and ask them if they provide IMAP support! If they do, they should have an IMAP account manager available on server since that is the only option for creating IMAP accounts

Hi there! Yes, it is possible, but this will require to have some server credentials that allow you to do that
