
WTF - Blank screen when I load Joomla.Cloner.php

Posted by snapsize - 2009/02/18 21:18

I've been beating my head against just about everything I can find for the past 2 days.

I'm trying to copy a joomla 1.0 site to a subdomain so that I can upgrade to 1.5 and not mess with the live site. I tried doing it manually but things weren't working out. I came across Joomla Cloner but have been struggling with it just as much.

I've been able to generate a backup but unsuccessful at cloning it. I get a blank page even after changing the php.ini file to the suggested settings. So, I'm having to migrate the backup manually but now I just get a blank page when I try to load Joomla.Cloner.php in the subdomain.

Please help.

Denis

Hi there! Was your restore script uploaded correctly? Beside the Joomla.Cloner.php you also need to upload 2 other files as explained in our Restore FAQ!

Anyway, if you have anymore issues, feel free to open a support ticket with our team to check the issue!

I copied the backup, Joomla.Cloner.php, pcltar.lib.php and pclzip.lib.php manually and still get a blank page.

I'll submit a ticket.

Thanks.
